Georgetown, Massachusetts

250th Anniversary
1732 - 1982

This is our 250th anniversary year, an important milestone for our church.

Our beginnings, our growth, our divisions of opinion, our reunions in faith--these are all part of our historical record. We are the people of the fellowship in 1982, joined in faith as followers of the Christ. We are individuals and families, joined in a larger local family carrying out a ministry together.

Let this directory remind us of who we are and what we are about.

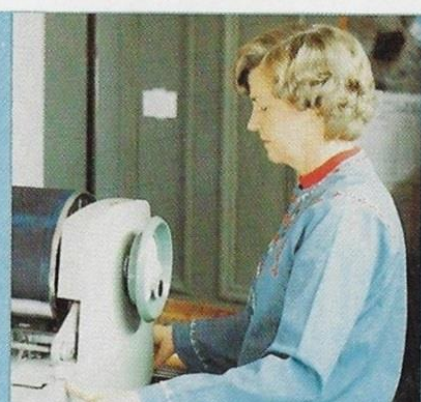

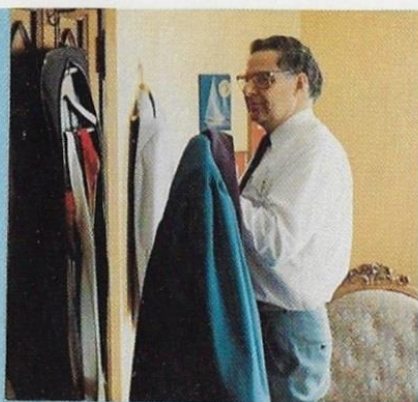

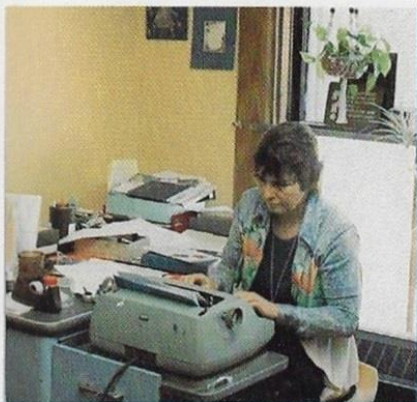

Phil Southwick

WHEN AND WHERE

October 4, 1732	The Second Parish of Rowley formally organized in the meeting house at the corner of Pillsbury Lane and East Main Street
June 5, 1769	A new meeting house, called South Church, was raised on a triangular parcel of land across from the present Brocklebank Museum.
1816	Paul Revere & Son bell was purchased.
1832	Extensive renovation of the South Church sanctuary.
1838	The Second Parish of Rowley becomes the First Congregational Church of Georgetown, with the founding of the town of Georgetown
1863	Eighty-three people withdrew from the membership and formed the Orthodox Memorial Church.
1867	The Memorial Church was built on the site of what is now the town parking lot.
December 18, 1874	Dedication of our present building; our present tracker-action organ was used for the first time.
1875	The old South Church meeting house was razed.
September 8, 1908	The Orthodox Memorial Church reunited with the First Congregational Church; their building purchased by the town.
1920	The former Memorial Church building burned.
1954	The First Congregational Church of Georgetown incorporated, uniting both the church and parish
1961	The First Congregational Church of Georgetown voted to become a member of the United Church of Christ.
